Castle Rock Style Elements Reflected in The Thayer Residence Design

- Vernacular Construction – Simple Design
    - Minimal ornamentation and subdued style
- One story construction (with exception of area over garage)
- Gabled roof (front gable as most common historically as well)
- Minimal ornamentation
- Simple, yet decorative roof supports
- Balcony on SE rear corner of home – homage to Hammar House (balconied portico)
- Large covered front porch
- Clapboard style siding (mimicked with modern plank siding)
- Stone to mimic stone foundation
- Simple, decorative trim used with discretion
